LET'S BEAUTIFY OUR ORCHARDS

"Beauty is the image of the Infinite. Like truth and justice it lives within us; like virtue and the moral law it is a companion of the soul."

— BANCROFT

We are fortunate to live in a country and a state that abound in natural beauty. But our interior valleys, while among the finest fruit growing regions of the world, lack the natural beauty of our mountains and seashores.

Where nature has failed, man can step in, and partially make up for the deficiency.

When laying out the land for your new orchard or vineyard this season, may we suggest — yes even urge, that you arrange space for a row of flowering trees or shrubs parallel to the road — between it and the first row of fruit trees. We are partial to the Crape Myrtle, as its showy flowers bloom most of the summer. Many other suitable flowering plants are of course available. (We do not sell ornamental plants).

Such beautifying has been done extensively in some orchard districts, especially in southern California. A few growers have taken these steps here in our own county. It can easily be done in any orchard. The cost is not great, and those who have made such ornamental plantings declare that it pays many times over — in pleasure to themselves and their families; to their neighbors, and to all those who pass by.

"Man does not live by bread alone".

HOW TO FIND US

ABOUT BUDWOOD SELECTION

Experienced growers know the most important single operation in the growing of orchard nursery stock is the selection of budwood.

FIRST, all varieties must be true to name, and free from mixtures.

SECOND, the bud selector must always be alert to the fact that undesirable strains often exist within a variety. Such strains could be characterized either by shy bearing or by fruit of lower quality. These subtle variations can be difficult to pick out. In order to be sure that our strains are good we select budwood from heavy producing commercial orchards — and from trees whose fruit is desirable in all respects.

THIRD, our budwood sources are indexed with the help of the State Department of Agriculture, in order that any viruses may be spotted and eliminated.

Over the years we have put much effort into this bud selection and indexing program. Most of our budwood trees are now grown in our own orchards, and they meet every test for excellence. We welcome inquiries about the bud sources of any variety.

Plant good trees on good land. Take care of them — and get results like this.

The above young orchard of Mr. A. J. Shoenwetter near Oakdale was planted with our "June Bud" almond trees. Photo taken September 20, 1963 — just eight months after planting.

Our truck deliveries are made by closed van — thus insuring their arrival in fine condition.

THE NEW "MODESTO" APRICOT

Patent Applied For (See Cover)

Originated by Plant Breeder F. W. Anderson of LeGrand, the Modesto canning apricot is introduced for trial this season by our nursery. It is the first new canning variety in California since the Tilton was discovered about 1885.

The Modesto has been tested for the past three seasons by California's leading canner, and has been adjudged a fine canning variety; superior in quality to the Tilton.

Its chief advantages are

Better flavor in the can (than Tilton).

More attractive; having deeper colored orange flesh.

Less pit burn during hot weather.

Ripens two weeks before Tilton — when harvest labor is plentiful.
